

Associate Site Medical Director

Surrey Memorial Hospital/Jim Pattison Outpatient Care and Surgery Centre

Fraser Health is responsible for the delivery of hospital and community-based health services to over 1.9 million people in 20 diverse communities from Burnaby to Fraser Canyon within the traditional, ancestral and unceded territories of the Coast Salish and Nlaka'pamux Nations, and is home to six Métis Chartered Communities.

We are seeking an innovative physician to join our team as an Associate Site Medical Director (ASMD) for Surrey Memorial Hospital and Jim Pattison Outpatient Care and Surgery Centre. The Associate Site Medical Director will help build and support a culture of patient and care-team safety and clinical effectiveness, where the patient and family are the centre of clinical system design. Your leadership will help us move complex change across our health service system to support broad transformation objectives. As a consensus builder, you lead by example and understand how to address site needs within the broader context of the health delivery system and multiple service delivery requirements. If this work sparks excitement within you, we welcome you to join our collaborative team.

Surrey Memorial Hospital and Jim Pattison Outpatient Care and Surgery Centre are located on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territories of the Katzie, Kwantlen, Kwikwetlem Semiahmoo and Tsawwassen First Nations, and home to the Surrey-Delta Métis Association. Surrey Memorial Hospital is a 610 acute care bed, University of BC Affiliated, regional referral and community teaching hospital that has the busiest emergency in the province. The hospital offers medical, surgical, neonatal intensive care, tertiary, ambulatory, cardiology, rehab, as well as 24/7 emergency services with 171,549 visits annually. The Emergency Department includes a dedicated Pediatric treatment and waiting area, part of the state-of-the art Critical Care Tower includes a dedicated perinatal centre, helipad and expanded ICU.

Jim Pattison Outpatient Care and Surgery Centre Provides a full range of scheduled outpatient services including day surgery, diagnostic services and specialized health clinics.

The Associate Site Medical Director based on shared accountabilities with the Site Medical Director and Executive Director (ED), is responsible for coordination and direction of care and patient access and transitions at the hospital in order to deliver quality patient centred care across the care continuum. The Associate Site Medical Director will also provide coverage for immediate and high priority concerns when the Site Medical Director is not available.

This position reports to the Vice President, Regional Hospitals and Health Services with professional accountability to the Vice President Medicine.
