Physician Quality Improvement

Welcome to PQI Cohort 4!

We are pleased you are pursuing your quality improvement and leadership goals with us. In just a few months, you will join like-minded colleagues who are passionate about QI, as part of the fourth cohort of Physician Quality Improvement (PQI). The PQI Team is here to support you to be prepared and successful in your QI project.

The information in this welcome kit is designed to help you and the PQI Team make this a smooth transition. Take some time to read everything on these pages and complete the necessary tasks. Stay on the lookout for emails from the PQI Team this summer.

If at any point you have questions or changes in plans, please let us know by emailing PhysicianQI@fraserhealth.ca. The accomplishments of the previous cohorts have made us proud, and we are thrilled to see what the new year of passionate cohort members will bring. You are about to embark on an incredible year of learning and discovery. We look forward to helping you realise your personal and professional potential as you join the Physician QI Community!

Sincerely,
